In last month’s article I wrote about a watering can being taken from someone’s front yard. I would now like to take the opportunity to thank the person who anonymously returned it to the office with a note to give it to me. We must remember that when we place something out in someone’s front yard some people think it’s because we want to get rid of it and we also must remember that when we see something in someone’s front it may be there for a reason and not for us to just take it. This was a very minor incident but I’m pleased that it was resolved so easily.

Hopefully by the time you read this article the new home for one of our empty lots Blackburn Blvd. will be ordered. Currently we’re working out the final details and choosing the colors. It’s not an easy task to fit a doublewide manufactured home on some of those angled lots on Blackburn but we’ll get it completed. Our intent is to have it ready to sell by October.

ROC was given a rental property on Blackburn and will be cleaning and painting the home to get it ready to sell or rent. If it is decided that we rent it we’ll only rent it by the year — not seasonally.

The streets are getting quieter all the time but there are still lots of activities going on in the clubhouse. There are card and board games played daily from Monday through Saturday so residents can stay busy.

This time of the year the office is much quieter so they are accomplishing work that they can’t get to during the season with all the necessary interruptions.

I hope by now all of you have returned the census that you received in late May. Surprisingly I’ve been asked questions and heard comments about this never being done before. I’ve lived here for 15 years and it has been done but unfortunately not in a number of years. This is a requirement by the federal and state government so we can prove that we have a certain percentage of residents over 55 years old so we can keep our adult community status. I heard that someone threw theirs away because we asked for social security numbers. We did not ask for social security numbers. We are required to ask for a form of ID that shows every resident’s date of birth. If you have not completed it the office will contact you because as I already said we ARE required to do this by our state and federal government. This huge task is not something that we chose to do; we’re required to do it. I know I’m repeating myself but I can’t stress enough how important this form is. We will be doing this every other year from now on. If for some reason you did not receive yours please contact the office to get one.

As we approach Hurricane and storm season I would like to direct your attention to the issue of personal safety. If you have any special needs during an evacuation, such as a need for transportation, you will need to contact Sarasota County at 941-861-5000. We have a form in the office that you will need to complete and send to the county. If you have done this previously you only need to let them know of any updates you may have. Emilie has the information at the front desk. Included in this issue is a map of evacuation zones and shelters in Sarasota County. Harbor Cove is mostly in Zone A (RED area). Evacuation is required for the RED areas and manufactured home communities if there is a tropical storm or hurricane with wind speeds from 75-95 MPH or more, and/or potential tides of up to 7 feet. If this occurs you need to have an evacuation plan. Please call Sarasota County at 941-861-5000 for shelter information. If you need help please call the office.

There has been a lot of cleanup work on the part of our homeowners. Thus far letters have been sent in regards to power washing and the painting of homes. Next I will be looking at any driveway violations. Please be aware that driveways need to be kept clean and free of peeling paint.

So far the heavy rains have held off this year, but I am seeing some homes where the weeds are starting to come up through the mulch. Once the rains start they will grow like, well, weeds!
The summer is flying by...can you believe it is already July?

There sure have been lots to do and everyone who is attending is having a great time at the fun activities and there has been lots of laughter and much “Solo” singing. Pam and her committee have done a great job!

In case you were wondering, yes, we are having lots of rain. It seems we are okay for most of the day but then around 4:30 or so, here comes the downpour. Everything is so green now and the park looks great.

We hope you are all having a great time up north with your families and are enjoying your warm weather. It has been pretty warm down here but not so hot that we can’t get out and enjoy lying around the pool.

My apologies to Zilda Metcalf for spelling her name incorrectly in last month’s newsletter.

Although things have slowed down in the Flea Market, we are still taking items. Set them out on Wednesday mornings at 9:00 am. They must be in good, resalable condition. We will not, however, take TV’s, printers, broken or rusty items.

If you are looking for an item, we still have a number of nice things and they would be available for you to see. Please contact Doug Shearer at 240-5158.
Contact Sharon Cox at 240-5158 if you have any other questions.

HARBOR COVE SINGLES
*By Leaders: Betty Falch-Johnson  426-1191
  Karen Murphy  423-7675*

Harbor Cove Singles meets year around 'though there are fewer of us in the summer months. We still meet in the Hospitality Room at 4:00 pm the first Wed of every month (July 2nd/2014).

Come to this meeting to get the tentative calendar of events for July. We have planned the usual breakfast; lunch and dinner out at a local restaurant and on the 4th Friday (7/25) there will be a food function in the Rec. Hall at a cost of $ 5.00.

It is important to attend the meeting to be fully informed. However, if you CANNOT attend, extra calendars are posted on the Singles Bulletin Board as well as the sign up sheets.

April and May events have been well attended. Gerry MacQueen was the leader for June and we meet June 4th. The next day, George Mackey organized Singles who would be interested in going to The Golden Corral in Punta Gorda. This was the second time this group went there and you'll never go away hungry!! So much good food. Breakfast was held at The Café Jardin in Venice, lunch at The Red Lobster in Port Charlotte, and dinner at Norma Jean's in Venice. The 4th Friday event was a Pizza Party with a special "Thank You and Best Wishes" send off to Mary Gillespie, a long time member who has contributed much to Singles.

We have added quite a few members to Singles since Jan. 1st, but Judy Belyea, our official record keeper in up north so I will only mention the newest members that have joined since April. Welcome to: Katie Shepard, Pat Woods, Bev Cousey, and Sally Sherwood.

Harbor Cove Singles is a Group of people having the common circumstance of being single now. It is a loosely knit group that it cannot accurately be called a club or organization---there is no formal organization---and that is by design and intent of the members.

Because we have been, and are still getting, new members, look for an Information sheet " Welcome to New Members" located by the Singles Bulletin Board.

Our first Happy Hour of the season was held on May 12th with over 120 people in attendance. It was pizza night and that meant 50 pizzas! Karaoke was provided by Rick & Micki after we ate and boy was that fun. We have some great singers here in Harbor Cove, and almost everyone stayed until the end.

Memorial Day Services were held on the patio with approximately 50 in attendance. What a nice service the Memorial Committee presented for us. A big THANKS goes out to Joan Allen and Carol Walters, Co-Chairman of this event, and their entire committee. Great Job!

Since I have to write this article before most of the June events take place, I will quickly list them so you know how active this committee is keeping the residents again this summer. You can tell by the participation, all who come enjoy it. So if you haven't done so yet, there is still time to join us.

WHAT SHE ALWAYS WANTED

By Pat Woods for the Writers Group

Bettina thought and thought and thought some more and finally remembered what she always wanted and never got and now realizes that it might be lost to her forever. She had wished for a lot of things and was granted most of her wishes and some of these were:

Her parents blessed her with two older sisters, one younger brother and two younger sisters. They fought tooth and nail between themselves but heaven help anybody else who messed with any one of them. They weren’t bullied or made fun of – her sisters could lick other kids with one hand tied behind them. Her brother wasn’t usually around to defend the girls. He was so busy doing boy things like tipping over the outhouses on the golf course nearby.

They lived on a farm and the owner had a pony he let her take care of. Oh, how she loved Daisy. She rode her bareback and they spent many hours together almost every day. When she was thirteen her parents gave her a Christmas present – her last doll. She had a porcelain head, hands and legs. An absolutely beautiful doll. Bettina cherished her till the day she fell off the dresser and broke into pieces. It took a while before Bettina forgave her sister for horsing around in the bedroom that day.

When she turned sixteen she, of course, wanted to learn how to drive. Her Dad took her out and on her first time behind the wheel they found out that she could back up without a problem. It was a good thing, too. Her Dad wouldn't let her go beyond the house next door forward. She was embarrassed to say the least. That was in the days when they had to shift from first to second to drive (called using the clutch).

Being a chubby teen she wanted to be thin and accomplished without dieting by dancing, bowling, swimming, waking and falling in love a few times. She wanted to get married to the man of her dreams and be a happy mother. She couldn't have received a better gift: that wish came true. The marriage lasted fifty-four years and they were still talking to one another!!! She couldn't have asked for more.

But one thing plagues her to this day. She wants to be taller!!! Five Foot Two was bad enough. Now the doctor tells her that she is only Five Feet Tall. Bummer!!! Her sisters are all taller than she is. Her next oldest sister is Five Feet Ten. She notices how nice clothes look on a taller frame. Do you realize how being short makes her miss a lot? At church it seems that everybody that sits in front of her is taller kneeling than she does standing up! She can't reach the top shelf at the grocery store — She now has to wait until a tall man and his significant other come down the aisle. She found that if she addresses the lady and asks if she can borrow his height she never refuses. She's met some darned nice people that way. Her husband bought her a jazzy little car and they had to have the passenger's seat raised almost three inches so she could see something other than the rooftops of houses when they we were out for a ride.

Her husband teased her that he had married the runt of the litter but he loved her anyway.

Just recently she was heard to ask if they still made ancient racks anymore? She'd at least like to get her lost two inches back.

ON THE OTHER SIDE OF THE DOOR
By Beverly Causey for the Writers Group

Breakfast is going to be so delicious — a banana, orange juice and an English muffin topped with peanut butter and Nutella. While the muffin was toasting, I opened the pantry door and took out the peanut butter. The Nutella was not there. I looked on the sides, back and front where I always put it. I pushed the contents on the shelf back and forth — but still could not find the Nutella. I had to use jelly as a substitute.
The next day the search for the Nutella began.
Thinking I had just missed seeing it, I started pushing things back and forth. Then I took everything off the shelf. What is this white jar with red letters, the size and shape of Nutella labeled “Fast N Final” spackling doing in the pantry?

My detective thoughts started working. Last week I was going to spackle some nail holes in the hallway but couldn’t find the spackling container and had to buy a new one. I also had a bagel with peanut butter and Nutella last week. So if the spackling jar ended up behind the door of the kitchen pantry, just maybe the Nutella is behind the door of the tool cabinet nestled with screwdrivers, hammers and wrenches.

Maybe it was just a senior moment, but sometimes it’s good to check on the other side of doors.

LOST
Carol Walters lost a diamond from her wedding ring on the patio at one of the Happy Hours. If you happened to find it, please return to her or to the office. She would much appreciate getting it back. Thank you.
